The Two-4 Waist Pack is simply a modernized and improved “tactical fanny pack” that has been used by special operations units and domestic tactical teams for years. Similar to the waist pack you had as a kid or still wear to theme parks or that European vacation – the Two-4 can be worn as a standalone load pack with the included waist strap or mounted as a “dangler” off the front of a plate carrier or chest rig.

The large main zippered pocket can be used as a general purpose pouch, expanded trauma kit, breachers bag, Escape & Evasion last ditch bag, sustenance pouch for longer missions, or any other use you may need. An integrated Ten-Speed slot on the top of the pouch lid can be used to hold a tourniquet or any other item that fits in the elastic slot. A loop panel covers the front for patches or insignia with a separate zippered document pouch behind that. Additional pouches can be mounted to the front or either side MOLLE fields.
